bridges, which visited Mystic, Tuesday afternoon, will recommend in its report as the result of its inspection of the Mystic Main street drawbridge, that the state take over the structure. That the committee's report would be favorable to the proposition was intimated by Senator MacDonald of Putnam, chairman of the committee, in a conversation with Dr. L. M. Allyn, one of the highway commissioners of the town of Groten. It is not expected, however, that a new bridge is to be built nor is it considered that this will be necessary; but it is quite probable that motor power will be installed for the operation of the draw after what improvements in the present structure necessary to allow of this have been made. This, of course, anticipating that the general assembly will vote favorably on the recommendation of the committee.

Mrs. Lydia Hewitt of Waterford Plaintiff Against Her Daughter-in-Law-Claims Alice G. Hewitt Took Her Husband's Affections-Case on Trial in Superior Court.

At New London Wednesday morning three times during the past year to At New London Wednesday morning three times din the superior court the trial was started in the suit brought by Lydia G. Hewitt of Waterford against her daughter-in-law, Alice G. Hewitt, also of Waterford, for alienation of her husband's affections. Mrs. Hewitt sues to recover $15,000 for the loss of her wise well as the age. husband's affections. Trial of the case is before a jury and Judge William L.

Bennett.

The defendant in the suit is a widow, her husband, F. W. Hewitt, a son of the plaintiff, having died in 1907.

The plaintiff alleges that she married her husband in 1871 and until 1908 lived heavely. ried her husband in 1871 and until 1908 lived happily. About 1908 the daughter-in-law by her acts, blandishments and seductions alienated the love and affection of the plaintiff's husband, de-stroying her happiness and the happi-

less of her home and that she has committed adultery with him at her home in Waterford at various times since 1908 until the drawing of the complaint.

The plaintiff claims that she has suffered great loss of mind and lost the love and affections and society of her husband and her own health and happiness as a consequence of the wrong acts of the defendant. Attorney Charles Stewart of this city appears for the plaintiff and Attorneys Rath-bun of Westerly and Tanner of New n represent the defendants.

The Plaintiff Testifies.

Mrs. Lydia Hewitt, the plaintiff, was the first witness called and testified that everything was harmonious be-tween herself and husband up to 1908 when Mrs. Alice Hewitt, her son's when Mrs. Alice Hewitt, her son's widow, became intimate with the witness' husband. She was questioned about the copy of a letter alleged to have been written by her husband to Mrs. Alice Hewitt, to which Attorney Rathbun for the defendant objected, at which point George W. Hewitt, her husband, was called to the stand for a years old. He was shown the copy of the letter in dispute and asked if he had ever seen or had any knowledge of the whereabouts of the original, to which he replied in the negative. Called on His Daughter-in-Law.

Mrs. Hewitt was then recalled and testified that in the fall of 1907 her daughter-in-law moved near the home of the witness, across lots. Her hus-band formed the habit of going there evenings after supper, staying at first until 9 or 9.30 o'clock. Later, how-ever, his visits became more frequent and he stayed later, often as late as 11.30. On one or two particular occa-sions when he forgot his key he en-tered the house through a window using a ladder to climb to the second

She objected to his going to her daughter-in-law's house, but he replied that her objections made no difference that her objections made no difference to him and he would go there whenever he wanted to. ## Standard Remedy For Many Homes

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions closely related and the cause of much physical suffering

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is general, so that most people suffer at some time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A simple, pleas-antly effective remedy that will quickly relieve the congestion of polsonous waste and restore regularity, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pep-sin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative-tonic and digestant, ab-solutely free from opiates or narcotic drugs and has been the standard household remedy in countless homes for many years. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.
